Note to Subscribers

In the last 12 months the number of high-quality manuscripts submitted to our Journal has increased considerably. Our responsibility to authors to ensure that their papers, once accepted, are published as quickly as possible, makes it necessary to announce 4 volumes (16 issues) for 1989 instead of the usual 3 volumes (12 issues).

We are fully aware of the fact that the additional volume represents a financial burden for our subscribers. For this reason, it was with great hesitation that we reached this decision. We therefore ask for your understanding in this matter and would greatly appreciate your support. In 1990 we will return to the usual publication schedule of 3 volumes (12 issues).
