Purpureum Chlamidis pennæ traxere colorem,
Fibulæ quod fuerat, veſtemq; momorderat aurum,
Pluma fit, & fuluo ceruix præcingitur auro.

Retro aures ſeu in collo, in oculorum ambitu, ventre toto, alis internis, etiam externis, quà reliquo corpori alligantur, inſigni macula albicat. Pennæ alarum remiges omnes tranſuerſim albis notis medium orbem æmulantibus, ſibiq. oppoſitis, quinis vtrinq. ad ſummum ſingulæ ornantur, quæ ordines per tranſuerſas alas, totidem pulchros conſtituunt: cætera nigræ ſunt. Alæ. In cauda item tres pennæ vtrimq. ex albo, & nigro in extremitatibus variæ ſunt, quæ à totidem medijs vndiquaq. nigris ita teguntur, vt vix appareant: ſunt autem hę, & proximæ extremo velut prępilatæ inſtar teli in cuſpidem triangularem deſinentes, cùm medio latiores ſint, quę res facit, vt deductæ extremis mediæ caudæ bifurcatæ ſpeciem exhibeant. Cauda. Tota interim cauda admodum robuſta eſt, ac renitens, idq. maximè ob ſuperiores illas nigras reliquas cooperientes plumas duro calamo donatas, & inflexu difficillimas, vt in reliquis Picis.

DE PICO VARIO MINORI.

Cap. XXXIII.

HVic Pico eadem ferè nomenclaturæ, quæ ſuperiori conueniunt, eſtque ſecundum Ariſtotelis genus, nobis propter corporis paruitatē vltimo loco poſitum. Hic verò Picus maiori proxima deſcriptione expreſſo per omnia ſimillimus eſt, adeo vt prorſus idem videretur, niſi rubræ illæ maculæ in vertice, & vropygio deeſſent, ac multò etiāminor eſſet, nēpè qui Paſſerem nequaquam magnitudine excedat. Magnitudo Præterea dorſum huius verſus lūbos magis variū, & ex albo nigroq. promiſcuè maculatum, lineis interim obſcuris tranſuerſalibus, quæ alarum notis reſpondere videntur, conſperſum. Dorſum.
PICVS VARIVS MINOR MAS.
